Two Men Killed.

Special to the Constitution.

Ane engine of the construction train on a Air-Line Railroad exploded this morn ag at the water tank about three miles instantly; the conductor, Capsain Adams, is supposed to be fatally injured, and the engineer, Baskeville, was slightly scaled. Both ends of the boiler were blown out. The track was cleared in about three hours.

ONEGA alnesville up passenat blooms. CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS.

Adams, in a letter to Senator Windom, cxpresses in the light of his experience as Eric Railroad Commissioner, dissatisfaction with both the McCrary bill, to regulate transportation by rail, as going a great deal too far, and with Mr. Windom's suggestion of a simple measure for investigation which don't go far enough.

Mr. Adams does not believe it possible for any nine men, no matter how honest and experienced, to properly revise the running railroad tariffs in use in the United States, and even if they could, that they would be able to reach the root of the present difficulty. The difficulty is the natural overgrowth of the whole system and theory of railroad construction, and it cannot be cradicated without upsetting the system—that of private

The proprietors of this enterprising monthly have spent well nigh $100,000 in advertising since its inception four years ago, and, like all liberal advertisers, have sowed a harvest that will assuredly turn to gold and a glorious success. The magazine is a model of typography and illustration, and what is better still, its editor, Dr. Holland, takes good care to keep its pages free from all mannes of skepticism. None of the other monthlies have achieved great prosperity. Lippincot's has a circulation of 7,000; its editor is John Foster Kirke. Old and New is circulates about 7.500 copies, and is edited by Edward Everett Hale. The Overland's circulation is put at 5,000. I will, however, venture to state the general features of the action which seems to me advisable on the financial platform on which I would stand, any departure from which would be in a spirit of concession and harmony in deference to conflicting opinions.

1st. I would like to see the "legaltender clause," so called, repealed, the repeal to take effect at a future time, say July 1, 1875. This would cause all contracts made after that date for wages, sale, etc., to be estimated in coin. It sale, etc., to be estimated in coin. would correct our notions of values. The specie dollar would be the only dollar when debts afterward contracted were paid in currency, instead of calling the paper dollar a dollar, and quoting gold at so much premium, we should think and speak of paper as at so much discount. This alone would aid greatly in bringing the two currencies nearer together a should be redbened in coin on presentation to any assistant treasurer, and that all currency so re-deemed should be canceled and never be reissued. To effect this it would be nec-essary to authorize the issue of bonds payable in gold, bearing such interest as would command par in gold, to be put out by the Treasury only in such sums as should from time to time be needed as should from time to time be needed for the purpose of redemption. Such logislation would insure a return to sound financial principles in two years, and would, in my judgment, work less hardship to the debtor interest than is likely to come from putting off the day of final regkoning. It must be borne in mind, too, that the creditor interest had

I would further provide that, from and after the date fixed for redemption, no bill, whether of national banks, or of the United States, returned to the Treasury to be exchanged for new bills, should be replaced by bills of less denomination than ten dollars, and that, in one year after resumption, any bills of less than five dollars

SHOULD BE WITHDRAWN from circulation, and in two years all bills of less than ten dollars should be with-drawn. The advantage of this would be strength given to the country against time of depression, resulting from war, failure of crops, or any other cause, by keeping always in the hands of the people, a large supply of the precious metals. With all smaller transactions conducted in coin, many millions of it would be kept in constant use, and, of course, prevented from leaving the country. Undoubtedly, a poorer currency will always drive the better out of circulation. With paper legal tender, and at a discount, gold and silver become articles of merchandise as much as wheat or cotton. The surplus will find the best market it can.

With small bills in circulation there is no use for coin except to keep it in the vaults of banks to redeem circulation. During the periods of great speculation and apparent prosperity, there is little de-mand for coin, and then it will flow out to a market where it can be made to carn ing idle.

Gold, like anything else, needed, becomes a surplus, and like every other surplus, it seeks a market where it can find one. By giving active em-ployment to coin, however, its presence can, it seems to me, be se-cured and the panics and depression which have occurred periodically in times of nominal specie payments, if they cannot be wholly prevented, can at least be greatly mitigated. Indeed, I question whether it would have been necessary to depart from the standard of specie in the trying day which gave birth to the first legal tender act, had the country taken Again, I would provide an excess o revenue over current expenditures; I would do this by rigid economy, and by taxation where taxation can best be borne Increased revenue would work a constant reduction of debt and interest, and would provide coin to meet demands on the Treasury for the resumption of its notes, thereby diminishing the amount of bonds needed for that purpose. All taxes, after resumption begins, should be paid in coin or United States notes. This would force redemption on the National Banks.

With measures like these, or measures which would work out such results. I see no danger in authorizing free banking without limit.

The address was well received and made a deep impression, as was evinced by the number of "shares" which were taken during the day.

Gen. Colquitt is decidedly the most of the State, and should he "ram the race" he would get a heavy majority of the votes in this county. Colonel Ozro J. Dodds, late member of Congress from the Fifth District of Ohio ells a good story about a call he recently eceived at his office from a man who claimed to be an editor from Arkansas. He was a very seedy looking chap, and appeared as though he had but recently come off from about a six wacks' spree. Bowing profoundly, then striking an atti-tude, with one hand on his heart and the other extending a badly used plug hat, he exclaimed with a dramatic air, "Have I the honor of addressing the Honorable Ozro J. Dodds ?"

Said the Colonel, "My name is Dodds, but I'm no longer an honorable "Not an honorable? Dodds not an onorable? Now, by St. Paul, when I scan that honest face, on which all the gods at once do seem to set their seal ('Green Seal,' murmured Dodds to him-self,) I read nothing dishonorable."

ABBANY, N. Y., June 5, 1873. Charles Eggler, who was to have been hanged in this city to-day, has escaped the gallows under peculiar circumstances. In April, 19873, he murdered an orphannamed Ettie Conkling in the southern part of Cayuga county. He worked on a farm there. The murdered girl was an adopted daughter of his employer. The latter, with his wife, went to a neighboring village shopping, leaving the girl and Eggler at work. When they returned they found Ettic dead in the hall, with several ghastly stabs about the breast.

Eggler was gone. He was captured in Tompkins county the next day. He confessed to the killing, but said it was done in self-defense. A quarrel had arisen between him and the girl. She was very large and muscular, although but 14 years old. He was slight, aged 17. The girl seized a butcher knife and attempted to stab him. He succeeded in getting the knife, and killed her. tnife, and killed her.
Eggler was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged on the 5th of June, 1874.
The case was carried to the Court of Application of the information was affirmed.

peals, and the judgment was affirmed. Governor Dix refused all applications for pardon or commutation of sentence. Eggler's counsel, E. D. Jackson, Esq., then examined the treaty between this country and Germany, Eggler being a subject of the latter government. He found that there was a provision in he treaty to the effect that subjects of Germany convicted of crime in this country might be taken home for punishment Mr. Jackson went at once to Washington and had a conference with the German Minister, Baron von Schloezer. The Minister consented to take the responsibility of sending Eggler home for pun-ishment if Governor Dix would release him from custody into his charge. The Governor consented to the arran and granted Eggler a conditional pardon The Sheriff of Cayuga county took him to New York a few days ago, and he is now on his way to Germany in charge of officers to receive his punishment. It will not be death, as he committed the crime while under the age exempted from the death penalty in Germany. He is to be imprisoned in Baden until sentenced.

The Vulgarity of American Diamone Wearing.

New York Correspondence of the Bo Are we a nation of pawnbrokers or We must be one or the other r wherefore the quantity of diamonds that are worn by women and children' I have no fault to find with the middle aged lady who adorns herself with the family jewels on full dress occasions; but good taste is outraged at the sight of a girl of fifteen wearing as many diamonds as would ransom a king. Not long ago I met a little girl who could not have been over five years old, out with her nurse, and from her ears hung imense solitaire diamonds non thing to see school girls from the ages of 10 to 18 wearing diamonds on their fingers and in their cars. A young girl does not think her toilet complete without diamond carrings and at least a diamond ring. Then, as she gets richer, come hair ornaments, and crosses, and lockets made of the precious stones. Necklaces of diamonds are rare in this country and are not often seen off the stage. The Countess of Caithness, who visited this country some time ago, was the wonder and admiration of all New York when she appeared in her box at the opera, flashing in $800,000 worth of diamonds. But then her diamonds had been anded down from generation to generaion of very rich ancestors, and were only second to those of royalty.

n European countries it is not until a woman has attained to years of maturity that she wears diamonds, and even then not unless she is very rich. In this coun y not one is too young to wear them, ad, I was going to say, no one too poor, and, I was going to say, no one too poor, for I have often seen women who live in small houses, up back streets, appear at church or the opera glittering in diamonds. The fireman, Henry Miller, colored, and the conductor, Mr. W. J. Adams, then, in an address to Cozari, seek occasion to say: "The jury have acquitted you of this charge. Entrusted as I am, to some extent, with the administration of the law in this country, I cannot allow you to be discharged vere adjusting the water pipe from the tank injured internally that he died in two or three hours after. Conductor Adams was from custody without a word about this ver-dict. If this verdict good to the public with out explanation, it will operate as a license scalded over the shoulders, arms and breast so horribly that he at present stands but little chance of surviving. Although some to crime. I do not hesitate to say, in my opinion, it is unwarranted by any principle thirty hands were on the train at the time, none were fortunately hurt. The wounded were carried to Norcross, and as soon as the disaster was heard of here, an engine and passenger coach were dispatched to the place. Dr. Charles Pinckney also went up of law or any fact known to me,"

We can construe his address in no other light thau that Sudge Hopkms made his address to Cozart a mere pretext to assail from the bench, the jury. He, Judge Hopkins, while upon the bench, was invested with power; he could assault us directly or indirectly: we had stand mute, or expose our-selves to fine or imprisonment, or both. Al-though he did say he "did not question the motives of the jury, and had nothing to say to that; still the verdict was unwarranted by any principle of law or any fact knows to him," thus attributing the verdict either to our ignorance of the law and the facts, or to corruption. If we did it ignorantly, a generous public ought not to censure; If we did it corruptly, we deserve the scorn of all mankind. But pray tell us, who constituted or what law, precedent, or custom, authorizes Judge Hopkins, he "being entrusted to some extent with the administration of the Prisoners in the jail claiming that the Station avert the attention from the instrument the impression is instantaneous that it is to the human voice under exquisite culture that we listen. Of course the origin of this improvement, and the exact manner i which its advantages have been made so prominent in this organ, are known to the patentce alone; but we doubt if the inven tor can make it plain why the direct resul has occurred. The effect of the concerte attachment is simply softening and vocaling. It seems to eatch a note that migh have been shrill or reedy, and at once soothe into something as sweet and musical as a human whisper. DR. CALHOUN'S LIVER PILLS.

DR. CALHOUN'S LIVER PILLS.

I AM engaged in the manufacture of the Celebrated Family Medicine, known as the Calhoun Liver and Anti-Billous Pills, under the supervision and assistance of Dr. Calhoun himself. This Pill has been in use for the last 35 years, and has taken precedence over all other Family preparations by all that have used them. Thousands would certify to their great value if necessary. One fact should supercede any amount of certificates, and that fact is this; Dr. Calhoun has been physician to the Fulton County Prison for over seven years, when the number of prisoners ranged from 20 to 70, laboring under all the diseases incidental to this climate. With but few exceptions they have all been treated with this Pill, and astonishing to say during that long period not a solitary death occurred under his treatment. This fact is worth any amount of testimonials.

I am now prepared to fill orders from I druggists, merchants and others. All orders sent me shall receive prompt attention. There is no type of FEVER, DYSPERSIA, DIARRHELA, DYSENTERY, RHEUMITISM, CHOLERA MORRES, BILIOUS-SNESS and SICK HEADACHE, or other diseases of a Southern climate, but yield readily to this preparation.
